

The New York State Waterfall Coalition (NYSWC)

The New York State Waterfall Coalition (NYSWC) is a fundraising and community action group focused on trail cleanup and trail safety management for waterfall locations throughout the state of New York. Through positive community involvement, private landowner outreach and industry leading networking, the NYSWC continues to educate people on the importance and beauty of these natural resources. At the NYSWC we believe that we can begin to regain control over the natural habitat and beauty that make these locations safe to visit.

www.newyorkstatewaterfalls.com

Dig the Falls has a similar mission but is more active in data collection and community building. The waterfall list, which currently contains over 2,300 waterfall locations, is maintained and curated by Dig the Falls and is the main foundation of both causes.

www.digthefalls.com

Dig the Falls is working in conjunction with NYSWC until the NYSWC gains 501(c)(3) status. The two work together to spread the word about New York State waterfalls, the natural areas around them, and the benefit to educating everyone about the importance of these natural resources.

For more information, contact:

Edward M. Smathers
Founder of Dig The Falls
info@digthefalls.com